

RUFUS M. DALTON LEADERSHIP SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

"In a gentle way, you can shake the world." – Ghandi

BACKGROUND

The Rufus M. Dalton Leadership Scholarship was established in 2014 in honor of its namesake and his 90th birthday. From his service in World War II, where he earned a Bronze Star and Purple Heart for his heroic service, to his career as an entrepreneur, philanthropist, mission worker, Sunday school teacher, volunteer, role model, and pillar of our community, Rufus is an inspiration to many. He has supported countless worthy causes with his time, wisdom and guidance, but perhaps his most profound influence has been a defining role and his decades long tenure on the board of North Carolina Outward Bound School.

THE AWARD

This annual scholarship awards an exemplary student with an all-expenses paid, 22-day backpacking, rock climbing, and whitewater canoeing course in the Blue Ridge Mountains. Included in this award is provision of gear required for the wilderness course; the total experience is valued at $4,700.

ELIGIBILITY

Eligible applicants must:

- Be a current high school Freshman, Sophomore or Junior
- Live in Mecklenburg County
- Show a proven desire to lead and serve others
- Demonstrate limited financial means

2017 Application Deadline
March 15, 12pm

THE EXPERIENCE

The scholarship recipient will venture deep into some of the oldest mountains in the world, over rocky mountain faces and through racing rivers. During three weeks in the Pisgah and Nantahala National Forests, scholars will work with their crews to navigate lush forests, cook their own meals, set up camp in the backcountry, navigate rivers by canoe, climb ancient rock faces, and learn Leave No Trace techniques to minimize their impact on the land.

Outward Bound expeditions push students physically, socially and emotionally. As students learn technical skills in challenging situations without typical comforts of modern life, they also learn self-reliance, craftsmanship, physical fitness, and compassion – these are the four pillars of Outward Bound, upon which all courses are based.

An Outward Bound course is not easy, but it is worth it. Students emerge from their expeditions as tenacious, trail-tested leaders with increased confidence and a passion to do more. They return home stronger and more resilient, and empowered to achieve their goals.

In addition to these results, the Rufus M. Dalton Leadership Scholarship Committee expects recipients to come away from the experience with an emboldened confidence to lead through adversity, a desire to work with and for others that is grounded in empathy, and the courage to live their values regardless of popularity.

"There is more in us than we know. If we can be made to see it, perhaps for the rest of our lives we will be unwilling to settle for less."

-Kurt Hahn, Outward Bound Founder

THE ORGANIZATION

For 50 years, North Carolina Outward Bound School (NCOBS) has delivered challenging outdoor adventure programs based in experiential education to people of all ages and walks of life. These programs help individuals discover their strength of character, ability to lead, and desire to serve. We are a non-profit organization and are proud to be part of a national network of Outward Bound schools in the US and all over the world.
